ESTABLISHMENTS.

The 26th April 1920.

No. 3T.—Babu Pyari Charan Gupta, Sub-Engineer, Northern Drainage and Embankment Division, is granted, under article 260 of the Civil Service Regulations, privilege leave for one month and 25 days, with effect from the 1st March 1920.

No. 24—The following resolution, issued by the Government of India, in the Public Works Department, is republished for information :—

No. 192E. A., dated Simla, the 1st April 1920.

RESOLUTION—By the Government of India, Public Works Department (Establishments).

In paragraph 5 of Annexure XVIII to their report the Public Services Commission suggested that it might be desirable to consider the question of transforming the upper subordinate establishment of the Public Works Department into a service organized on the model of the existing provincial civil services and of the similarly organized services proposed by them for the Education and Forest Departments. They also recommended that steps should be taken to raise the qualifications of the proposed new service. These recommendations received the strong support of the Public Works Department Reorganization Committee, who suggested that an inferior engineering service should be constituted to provide the bulk of the subdivisional officers. After consulting local Governments and Administrations proposals were formulated to which the sanction of His Majesty's Secretary of State has now been received. The change will be introduced with effect from 1st February 1920. The following are the main features of the scheme :—

I. There will be constituted a provincial service of engineers to comprise the bulk of the officers of the Public Works Department required for the charge of subdivisions. The Public Works Department will in future be organized in the following three services—

(i) The Indian Service of Engineers.

(ii) The "Provincial" Engineering service.

(iii) The "Subordinate" Engineering service.

Recruits for the new Provincial service will be mainly drawn from the Engineering classes of the Indian Engineering Colleges, while appointments will be guaranteed to a certain number of students who fail to obtain appointments in the Indian Service of Engineers. During the first five years after the formation of the Provincial service local Governments will be authorised to promote to them selected members of their upper subordinate establishment, but in making their selection local Governments are requested to bear in mind that the Provincial service is to be a new service of engineers and not a reorganized service of subordinates. Selected temporary engineers may also be appointed to the new service, while any officers of the superior service, who may have failed to show their fitness for divisional rank, but who are held to be efficient subdivisional officers, may be offered appointments in this service. If they refuse such appointments their services should be dispensed with.

II. In order to provide for those members of the permanent upper subordinate establishment, who are not qualified and cannot be selected for appointment to the new Provincial service, and for those students who are in the upper subordinate classes at the Engineering Institutions on the date of formation of the new service, the upper subordinate establishment will be maintained for the present, but no further recruitment of upper subordinates will be made after the students in the colleges on the 1st February 1920 have been absorbed to the numbers guaranteed. The upper subordinate establishment will thus gradually be reduced until it ceases to exist. Classes for upper subordinates at the Engineering Institutions will be discontinued when the students now in these classes have completed their course of instruction.

III. The maximum pay of the Provincial service in all provinces except Burma will be Rs. 750 per mensem. In the case of Madras, Bombay and Bengal the initial and intermediate rates of pay will be as may be prescribed by those Governments. In the case of the United Provinces, the Punjab, Bihar and Orissa, the Central Provinces, Assam, Rajputana and Central India, the pay of the service will be fixed on a continuous time scale of Rs. 250—20—750, with an efficiency bar at Rs. 550. The pay of the Burma Engineering service has, owing to the high cost of living in that province, been fixed at Rs. 300—20—800 with an efficiency bar at Rs. 600.

IV. The Provincial service in each province will be designated the "Madras Engineering Service," "Central Provinces Engineering Service," and so forth. The members of these services will be described as Assistant Engineers.

V. The members of the Provincial service will be eligible for advancement to the Indian Service of Engineers, and 20 per cent. of the number of superior posts open to the India-recruited branch of the Engineer establishment will be allotted in each province to the Provincial Engineering service. Officers thus promoted will be brought into the superior service on the rate of pay next above that which they were drawing in the Provincial service and will count for seniority accordingly. No restrictions are laid down regarding the age at which an officer in the Provincial service may be promoted to the Indian Service of Engineers. This matter will be left to the discretion of Provincial Governments, who will, however, probably find that the interests of the public service are best consulted by selection of officers at an early period in their service. Members of the new subordinate service will not be eligible for promotion to the Provincial service; but they will be entitled to an allowance of Rs. 75 when placed in charge of a subdivision.

VI. Local Governments and Administrations will be addressed separately in regard to the strength of the Provincial service in each province, the initial salary to be drawn by officers selected for this service and other cognate matters. But in order that the appointment of deserving members of the permanent upper subordinate establishment to the new service may not be delayed, local Governments are authorised to make such appointments forthwith on the following conditions:—

(a) The number of officers appointed to the Provincial service should not exceed 25 per cent. of the number of regular subdivisions in the province.

(b) The maximum initial pay of an officer appointed to the Provincial Engineering service should not exceed that which he would draw had all his service as an upper subordinate been in the Provincial Engineering service.

(c) The minimum initial pay of an officer appointed to the Provincial Engineering service should not be less than what he is drawing as an upper subordinate at the time of his selection. If, owing to the operation of condition (b), an officer appointed to the Provincial service is entitled to a rate of pay less than he is drawing at the time of his selection, the difference should be paid to him as a personal allowance.

(d) Seniority on appointment to the Provincial service should be governed by the selected officers' pay, and officers granted the same pay should retain their present relative seniority.

(e) All appointments to the Provincial service made prior to the 1st September 1920 will have effect as from the 1st February 1920.

(f) All appointments made in virtue of the present special permission should be regarded as subject to revision and reconsideration, should this prove necessary, when all conditions governing the new service can be brought fully into operation.

VII. Commissaries, Deputy Commissaries, Assistant Commissaries, Warrant and Non-commissioned Officers of the Public Works Department, and, with the concurrence of the Director-General of Military Works, of the Military Works Services, may be appointed to the Provincial Engineering service on the same terms and conditions as Civilians, subject in the case of Warrant and Non-commissioned officers to the further condition that they take their discharge from the Army.

No. 59T.R.—The 27th April 1920.—Under section 114 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (Act VIII of 1885), the Governor in Council has determined that in police-stations Raipur, Simlapal, Khatra, Indpore, Raniband, Chatna, in the district of Bankura, where the preparation of a record-of-rights has been undertaken under notification No. 1043T.R., dated the 12th September 1917, the landlords' and tenants' share of cost for the survey and the preparation of record-of-rights, including the estimated cost of maintenance of boundary marks for a period of fifteen years shall be apportioned and recovered as specified below:—

(1) A rate of 14 annas per acre shall be levied on all cultivated lands and a rate of 5 annas per acre on all lands classed as jungle and waste.

Common lands such as roads, streams, burning ghats shall be excluded from assessment.

(2) Of the 14 annas rate, raiyats and all persons holding non-agricultural tenancies shall pay 5 annas and thus landlords of all grades together pay 9 annas per acre.

(3) The whole of the 5 annas rate for lands classed as jungle and waste shall be borne by the landlords.

(4) Landlords shall pay the raiyats' share for lands in their khas possession and raiyats shall pay the full raiyati rate for lands covered by their holdings.

(5) As between the different grades of landlords the landlords' share shall be apportioned thus—

(a) Permanent tenureholders whose rent or rate of rent is fixed in perpetuity shall pay their own share of cost and that of landlords superior to them.

(b) Other permanent tenureholders and temporary tenureholders whose lease has over 15 years to run shall pay three-fourths of the landlords' share and their landlords shall pay the remaining one-fourth.

(c) Temporary tenureholders whose lease has 15 years to run shall pay fifteenth-sixteenths of the share they would pay in accordance with (b) above if they were permanent tenureholders and so on proportionately according to the number of years of the lease to run.

(d) Temporary tenureholders who do not hold on a lease or for a fixed term shall pay half of the landlord's share.

Explanation.—The calculation shall be made from the lowest grade of landlords immediately above the raiyats. The period for which the lease of the tenure or the undertenure is to run is to be reckoned in each case from the close of the agricultural year in which the record is finally published.

(6) Rent-free holders whether of the degree of the raiyat or landlord shall pay the whole of landlord's share for their lands.

7 (a) All under-raiyats with right of occupancy shall pay at the rate of 2 annas and 6 pies per acre for the land in their possession.

(b) Under-raiyats with no right of occupancy shall be exempted from assessment.

8 (a) The minimum charge for any tenancy or part of a tenancy recorded in one village shall be 4 annas.
